

THE END

A wide-angle photograph of a desert landscape at dusk. The foreground is a sandy dune with sparse, dry vegetation. In the middle ground, there are rolling hills covered in low-lying, reddish-brown shrubs. The background shows a flat expanse of land meeting a calm, blue body of water under a pale, twilight sky. The words "THE END" are written in large, glowing neon letters across the middle of the frame, casting a soft light on the sand below them.